

RT MEDIAN N.

This is a longitudinal B-mode ultrasound image of the right median nerve. The nerve is visible as a dark, anechoic structure with a characteristic 'honeycomb' or 'beehive' internal texture, representing the individual nerve fascicles. It is surrounded by a thin, echogenic epineurial sheath. The surrounding soft tissue structures, including muscle and connective tissue, are shown in various shades of gray. The text 'RT MEDIAN N.' is overlaid in yellow on the right side of the nerve.
